

The Saami are the indigenous people of northern Europe. They are respected as a minority who blend an age-old way of life with the high-tech world that is Finland today.

Each knife is carefully hand forged from silver steel into razor sharp blades that are Progressiontempered© resulting in the optimal razor sharp cutting edge. (61-62RC) Each blade, handle and sheath is made from scratch by one man whose initials are on the blade.

Hunting Knives

M Line At home in the wild and a welcome addition to any collection of knives. Kellam's forged stainless razor sharp blades combine both beauty and function. In the field you can depend on these quality blades to easily clean and dress game without having to be resharpened. Some handles have beautiful natural materials while others have rubber handles giving you a sure grip while working in wet and slippery conditions.

A total of 6% of the population of Finland hold a hunting license, which is more than anywhere else in Europe when compared to the size of the population.
